Summary.*

As a digital marketing specialist with over 2 years of experience, I've led successful campaigns for brands in cosmetics, fashion, and tech. My strength is in creating strategies that connect with the right audience, optimizing ads for better results, and managing budgets that deliver strong returns. I've driven engagement, boosted brand awareness, and achieved real results using platforms like Google Ads, Meta Ads, LinkedIn Ads, and more. I've also built online communities that people love and developed content strategies that work.

My portfolio shows some of the successful campaigns I've led, proving my commitment to helping brands grow and achieve their goals. Whether it's running a full digital marketing strategy or building a community, I'm focused on delivering results.
